“And It Was Supposed To Be Such A Straightforward Trust To Administer...
Selected Topics in Estate and Trust Litigation”

Estate and trust litigation is becoming increasingly common in the course of administration. Disgruntled beneficiaries, trustees who are incompetent (or made a mistake), conflicts of interest, and many other variables can lead to a controversy. These attorneys from Evans, Latham & Campisi will bring us up-to-date on the current trends in estate and trust litigation, significant court decisions, and most importantly, on what estate planning professionals can do to avoid becoming the victim of a successful claim.

Nancy M. Levin, a partner in Evans, Latham & Campisi since 1999, specializes in difficult trust and estate administrations. Nancy is a former co-chair of the Litigation Subcommittee of the Probate Section of the Bar Association of San Francisco and has lectured on probate and trust administration and litigation.

Charles P. Wolff has been a partner in Evans, Latham & Campisi since 1987. A former chair of Ethics Committee of the Executive Committee of the Trusts and Estates Section of the State Bar and a member of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel, Charlie is a frequent speaker on topics of interest to estate planning professionals.

Andrew Zabronsky joined Evans, Latham & Campisi in 1994 and became a partner in 1996. A former editor of the Trusts and Estates Quarterly of the Trusts and Estates Section of the State Bar, Andy is currently serving as an advisor to the Executive Committee. He has written extensively, on topics such as the Uniform Principal and Income Act, civil procedure in probate proceedings, and no contest clauses.
